

The Traveling Student Archivist Summer Internship Program:

Each summer the Montana SHRAB sponsors Traveling Student Archivist program. Graduate students in an archival studies program or information sciences program with archival emphasis are invited to apply for this internship to serve 230 hours at a Montana institution responsible for archival collection preservation and access. The work completed may include surveying of records, creation of policies, preparation of disposal requests, creation of inventories and training of staff and volunteers. The internship comes with a $5,000 stipend. Application forms are sent out each March in the spring issue of the SHRAB newsletter.
